WILD DRAMA!

When: Saturdays, 10am-12pm
Where: Battersea Park
Ages: 6-12 years
Cost: £20/session

From May to October, we move our drama workshops outdoors to various London parks. Here children are given the guidance yet freedom to imagine, express, have fun, make friends and learn!

With the flowers out in full bloom and the sun shining down, what better place to hold our exciting drama workshops than London's beautiful parkspace? And...Action!

Our Music and Drama team take the children on a theatrical adventure, encouraging imagination but also instilling the value of focus and teamwork. With a dressing up box on wheels and the park as our stage, we'll find inspiration in the air, the grass, the trees, and the bees!

The children will work on a range of skills including improvisation techniques, voice projection, audience awareness, self-confidence, and more.

How it works: Parents simply drop off children at our designated meeting points and collect two hours later. The only thing you need is comfy shoes and willingness to have fun and participate.

This club is open for children aged 6-12 but are split into 2 groups (6-9s and 10-12s). Staff are first aid trained

In the event of poor weather, we may have to cancel some sessions and offer a full refund.
